

FEAT MAY ENDANGER PRESIDENT

The treaty question may suffer if proposed to a special session of congress.

It is considered possible that President Wilson's attitude toward a compromise on reservations will have been greatly softened by the verdict at the polls and that a non-partisan or bi-partisan movement may yet be started to bring about the remaining days of President Wilson's administration. It would hasten the president's probably and give him strength to bear the strain of his illness.

President's Condition.

The true condition of the president is a matter of conjecture. Few people know though there is the usual amount of rumor about a relapse. The best information the writer has been able to obtain is that the president has been steadily improving and is much better than he was some months ago. Nobody can foresee what the effect of a disappointment may be but men who know Mr. Wilson best are convinced that his vitality is such that he will be able to withstand the blow that is sure to come.

Will Wilson Relinquish?

As for the rumors of resignation in the event of defeat at the polls, this inference is believed to have been drawn from a recent speech of Governor Cox in which he predicted the "retirement" of the president from public affairs. Mr. Wilson is a firm believer in the theory that the head of a government should resign when defeated just as in the case with parliamentary government but circumstances influenced him in 1918 when he lost both houses of congress to ignore European precedent as applied to American form of government and is not generally credited that he will abandon his post before the close of his administration. On the other hand if he believed that by eliminating his own personality as a factor Vice President Marshall might be able to negotiate a settlement of the treaty question with the Republican senate, he would probably resign. Yet it is known that Mr. Marshall doesn't share the president's views on the League of Nations and it is hardly to be expected that he would champion the cause during the next session of congress.

Nobody can predict with accuracy what might be the outcome of the election on the plans of President Wilson. All Washington is hoping that he will bear up under the inevitable verdict at the polls and that he will be well enough to remain in office until the end of his term. Partisanship may disappear with the election and after a month's internecine struggle the next congress may come back in a better mood to take up the matter of foreign policy and dispose of it before an avalanche of domestic problems like the excess profits tax comes down on the next administration.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2.

Really and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation acts right at the source of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle, and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.
